Refund and Onboarding Policy

Refund rules

Enterprise customers may request a refund of an onboarding fee if the company misses its contractual onboarding commitment by more than five business days, unless the delay was caused by missing customer documentation.

A refund request must be submitted within 30 calendar days of the relevant incident. Requests are reviewed by customer operations and finance. Approval is not automatic, and contract-specific exceptions take precedence.

Standard onboarding service levels

The service levels below are targets rather than guarantees. Contract terms can override the standard target. Working days exclude official company holidays.

plan	target_days	escalation_team
Starter	7	Customer Support
Business	5	Onboarding Operations
Enterprise	3	Enterprise Success

Escalation procedure

A customer who has not received an update within two business days should contact the account owner. The account owner should file an escalation ticket and reference the customer ID, contract tier and date of the original request.

Always check the customer-specific agreement before quoting a refund amount or guaranteeing eligibility.
